

Women's Behavioral Health Clinic

A Supportive Program for Women and Their Families

Providing compassionate care for 30 years

Swedish Family Medicine/Cherry Hill now offers consultation services for women experiencing postpartum depression and other mental health needs.

The Swedish team includes:

- Psychiatric physicians specializing in postpartum depression
- Family Medicine physicians
- Physicians, nurses and social workers specializing in high-risk pregnancies, addiction medicine and chemical dependency, and women's behavioral health

On-site social workers provide group or individual counseling, group activities, peer support and community referrals for hospital care, local government agencies, service providers and more. Nurses and outreach workers from Public Health Seattle & King County are also available through a collaborative relationship.

Call 206-320-2484 to schedule an appointment.
